SPRING SUITS

Ten distinctive styles at $29.75

Have the corset fitted first

DURING our Opening several of the higher-priced imported creation were so much admired that we decided to see if we couldn't have the style copied in tailored suits to sell at a more moderate price.

We have succeeded. Here are the suits, and all are modeled from styles costing at least a third more.

Materials are French Serges....Prunel las....Worsted and Chiffon Panamas, in shadow stripes in different colors and the popular black and white stripes and checks.

Second Floor—S. Kann, Sons & Co.

Skirts are in the high girder, hipless effects. The coats are lined in guaranteed satin or taffeta silk.

Altogether this collection of Easter Suits will appeal to the woman of discriminating and refined taste, and we invite you to this showing tomorrow.

BOOKS

25c ON THE DOLLAR

We promised the most sensational book news in Washington history for Thursday, March 18. Detailed news in this paper tomorrow. 25c ON THE DOLLAR.

More evidence of our superiority of service

200 different styles of untrimmed hat shapes, all at one price, $1.50 each

Not only variety not to be found elsewhere, but values as well. It's time you selected the Easter hat—whether you intend to trim it yourself or have us do it. Variety in trimmings equally big. In such assortments you are certain to find just what suits your particular style.

The new burnt and mustard colored straws are much in evidence in this lot.

A very striking effect and one that is much in favor is that of either of these leading colors with trimmings of black velvet ribbons, jet trimmings or black grapes or cherries.

It is time to buy your Easter hat now, whether you intend to trim it yourself or have us do it. Select your trimmings tomorrow also.—Second Floor.

A belated "auction" bargain
36-in. black taffeta, 98c yard

This just arrived, so it is something new for you to come for tomorrow. We have 5,000 yards of this lustrous black taffeta silk, bought at auction, and although worth at least $1.50 a yard, the price is only 98c.

We guarantee this taffeta silk to give satisfactory wear, and stand back of every yard we sell. Just the quality that makes up prettiest into costumes, suits, waists or separate skirts. See it tomorrow, for it'll not tarry long at the price quoted—5c a yard.

Foulards at 59c yard.

Distinctive style to Ladies' Home Journal Patterns

—Style you cannot get in any other patterns to be had at any price. And LADIES' HOME JOURNAL Patterns cost but 10c and 15c.

They are most economical in the use of materials, and are most easily put together.

As evidence of the light in which women view the patterns we cite the fact that since putting in these patterns we have more than quadrupled our pattern sales. A patented guide chart or model makes mistakes in putting together and consequent loss practically impossible.

Women's empire dresses very popular now

WEARIN' OF THE GREEN

Irishmen Plan to Honor Memory of St. Patrick.

SHAMROCK IN HIGH ESTEEM

Religious Worship and Banquet on Program for Tomorrow.

BISHOP CORRIGAN TO SAY MASS

Ancient Order of Hibernians Arrange for Celebration—Observances by Other Organizations.

Green, green and green again, the Irishman's red, white and blue, blended into one, will be the prevailing color tomorrow wherever Celtic heart beats true to the trials and traditions of old Ireland.

St. Patrick's day, 1909, will be ushered in tomorrow morning, and the "dear little shamrock," with which the revered patron saint first taught the Irish people the story of the Holy Trinity, illustrating with the tiny green growth the three-in-one principle, will be worn by men and women who are proud of their nativity and their sod.

The church bells calling the faithful to worship tomorrow will sound in their brazen tones requiems in remembrance of good St. Patrick and joy peans for his noble accomplishments in the island of his adoption. Around the fireside, in the glow of evening, venerable sires will tell stories about the good old saint and give the morals they convey. The day will be one of feasting, prayer and remembrance to the sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle.

The marching hosts with blaring brass bands, fluttering flags and triumphant tumult, which marked the celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the saint in former years, will be absent tomorrow. In place of the former demonstrations the occasion will be marked by deeds of charity and religious worship, and in the eventide there will be meetings of the clans and their friends.

In the Catholic Churches. In the Catholic Churches the day will be solemnly observed, as to St. Patrick the faith owes much. He was its pioneer in Ireland, and his teachings have since been regarded as revelations.

One of the features of the day will be the opportunity given the people to meet and greet Bishop Corrigan, who was recently appointed to the bishopric. To the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will fall a place of high honor in celebrating the natal day. The members of the several divisions, with the Ladies' Auxiliary, will assist at the solemn pontifical mass at St. Patrick's Church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The celebrant will be the Rt. Rev. D. B. Corrigan, who is a member of the Hibernians, and the pontifical mass he will celebrate will be his first in Washington. It is announced that the members of the parish will attend to commemorate the patronal feast of the church.

The assistants to Bishop Corrigan will be Rev. Charles M. Bart as deacon and Rev. Clarence E. Wiseler as subdeacon. Rev. George A. Dougherty, Rev. William J. Carroll and Charles Fisher will have charge of the ceremonies. A special musical program has been arranged by Armand Gumprecht and Harry Hall, leaders of the mixed and sanctuary choirs. A full orchestra will also accompany the mass, and the processional and recessional.

Procession from the Rectory.

It has been arranged for the procession to start from the rectory at 10:30 o'clock a.m. In the line will be the altar boys, the vested choir and clergy. The societies will serve as a guard of honor to the bishop. The pastors of the Catholic churches of Washington and many from Baltimore, will be present at the service, and will take luncheon with Rev. Dr. Russell.

A special reception will be accorded Bishop Corrigan after the mass in New Carroll Hall, to afford an opportunity to Washington Catholics to meet the new bishop.

The sermon will be preached by Rev. William E. Martin, S. J., of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. The program of music at St. Patrick's Church follows: Mixed choir—Processional, march from the celebrated suite in B flat; during the vesting of the bishop, "Unfold, Ye Portals, from the East, the King of Kings," Dosset's, in E minor, complete; the proper of the mass, "Missa Statuit," belonging to the feast of the bishops and confessors; recessional hymn to St. Patrick, "Hail, Glorious Apostle." Sanctuary choir—Processional, "Faith of Our Fathers," Graduale, "Gloria Patri," offertory, "Ave Verum," "Veni Creator," "Unfold, Ye Portals," "Hark, Hark, My Soul."

High Mass at St. Aloysius.

At St. Aloysius Church high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, with Rev. Charles W. Lyons, S. J., as celebrant. There will be a special program of music by the sanctuary choir. Rev. David J. Roche, S. J., will deliver the panegyric.

The big event tomorrow evening will be the banquet of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Carroll Institute. Patrick J. Halligan will be the toastmaster. The following constitute the committee of arrangements:

Rev. George A. Dougherty, Francis P. St. Patrick, P. C. Carr, Patrick H. Gallagher, M. E. Buckley, P. T. Moran, P. J. Conlon, R. A. Curtin, H. A. Hegarty, Joseph D. Sullivan, J. O'Meara, T. D. McCarthy, Miss Mary E. Sullivan, Mrs. A. M. King, Mrs. Nellie B. Kelsier, Mrs. H. M. Sweeney, Miss Margaret Brosnan, Miss Katherine C. Horrigan, Elizabeth Healy, Miss Katherine Cauty, Miss Mary J. Moore and Miss Margaret Buckley, chairman, Frank J. Sheehy, secretary, Mrs. Nellie B. Kelsier, treasurer, J. F. O'Meara.

Reception committee—J. T. O'Meara, chairman, P. J. Conlon and P. F. Carr, secretaries; Samuel Kimberley, refreshments committee—P. T. Moran, chairman; R. A. Curtin, P. H. Gallagher, Joseph D. Sullivan and Miss K. C. Horrigan.

Social Session of Elks.

In honor of St. Patrick's memory Washington Lodge of Elks will hold a social session at the Elks' home tomorrow evening. The committee in charge comprises M. G. McCormick, chairman; C. H. Utermelie, secretary; Samuel Kimberley, treasurer; Richard A. O'Brien, Fred J. Mersheimer, Edward Neumeier, Jr., Frank Kidd, M. A. Lynch, Herbert Lacs, Julius Vierbuchen, Lloyd E. Brooks, P. C. Carr, George Mason, William Bacon, J. Ready, John Lynch, Harvey G. Ellis, William A. Paffo, Charles W. Darr, John M. Maxwell, William A. Heitinger, Julius I. Peyser, Thomas Evers, Samuel Richards and M. D. Feuton.

A St. Patrick's eve session of the Gaelic Society of Washington will be held this evening in the auditorium of Carroll Institute, beginning at 8 o'clock. President James Mooney announces that the program will include a historical address by the president of the society and a Gaelic address by a prominent Gaelic speaker of Philadelphia. In honor of the anniversary a special music program has been arranged, consisting of favorite and classical Irish, Scottish and Welsh compositions, including Gaelic and English ballad singing, Gaelic chorus, violin orchestra, violin, piano, harp and clarinet solos.

Dispensation Granted by Cardinal.

Cardinal Gibbons has granted a dispensation for the use of flesh meat at St. Patrick's day banquet of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The announcement was made at a meeting last night of the committee of arrangements in the office of Capt. P. J. Halligan. Wednesday,

FUNERAL OF GENERAL BUKEY

CIVIL WAR VETERAN LAID TO REST IN ARLINGTON.

Grand Army Comrades Attend Services at St. Paul's Catholic Church. Mgr. Mackin's Tribute.

Wrapped in the flag of the country for which he fought, the body of Gen. Van Hartsness Bukey, late disbursing officer of the bureau of engraving and printing and a veteran of the civil war, who died at his home in the Victoria Sunday, was laid to rest this morning in Arlington cemetery.

The services and requiem mass were held in St. Paul's Catholic Church, 15th and V streets, this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Mgr. James F. Mackin officiated. Many beautiful floral pieces were sent by friends and by his comrades in the civil war. Mgr. Mackin paid high tribute to the life, work and example of the deceased, who, he said, had been a most faithful servant to his country in both civil and military life.

Those who served as honorary pallbearers were William Emerson and M. L. Leonard, representing Burnside Post, G. A. R.; Thomas H. McKee and William M. Meredith of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion and Capt. A. H. Brown and James H. Fisher.

The District of Columbia Society, Sons of the American Revolution, was represented at the funeral by Gen. Thomas M. Vincent, U.S.A., retired, chairman; Capt. William M. Meredith, Col. Charles Lyman, Commander John H. Moore, U.S.N., retired, and Dr. Williams Donnelly.

Gen. Bukey was a great-grandson of Ephraim Foster, who was a sergeant of the 1st New Hampshire Regiment during the revolutionary war. Gen. Bukey enlisted with the 11th West Virginia Regiment at the beginning of the war, and rapidly rose through the grades, until he was brigadier-general. He had served the government since the close of the conflict, in Parkersburg, W. Va., and in Washington. He took a prominent part and interest in politics.

WOMEN DISCUSS MISSIONS.

Speaker Makes Plea for Gospel Mission in This City.

Mrs. Clara Bliss Finley, representing the Presbyterian Church, conducted the meeting of the Woman's Interdenominational Missionary Union, held in Luther Memorial Church, Thomas Circle, northwest, yesterday. Her address was upon "Christian Activity."

Mrs. Harriet E. Monroe was also in attendance and made a plea for aid for the gospel mission on Pennsylvania avenue between 12th and 13th streets northwest, where she said 100 homeless men are being fed daily.

Mrs. Rice I. Steele conducted the Bible study class near the close of the session.

Wyman Talks on Health Problems.

Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service delivered a lecture last night in New York before the students of Columbia University on "Public Health Problems of the Nation." He leaves today for St. Joseph, Mo., where he will address the Medical Society of the Missouri Valley, one of the most prominent organizations of its kind in the west, at its twenty-first semi-annual meeting, March 18.
